I DON'T WANT TO BE AFRAID ANYMORE!

For a long time, I was scared to try. To truly try. I was frozen with fear no matter what I was busy with: work, relationships, self-care.
No more.

These series of art work are the results of a contios choice to separate one by one each of the mane disturbing emotions and face them.
Stair at them, savor them, let them wash me off from head to toes.

Except, express and move forward.

Jealousy.

I'm not talking only about love-relationships.

It can come in the field of work, hobbies, appearance and so on.

Insecurity and jealousy usually are coming from the low self-esteem. So for real, there is no third side.

It is not about that someone else is better than you. No. It is only between a person and voices in his head.

That overwhelming feeling, when you don't know what to do and how to be anymore...

It came because of forced separation from my son and also as a reflection on the world situation (war) nowadays... so many people died and continue dying...

... For what?! What can I do?!
Will it ever end?

Subject: Bigger picture, conceptualism

Let's imagine some kind of a fact as a huge, giant elephant.
There are three people standing from different sides of this elephant and they never saw or heard about elephants before.
If we ask these people to tell us what an elephant is?

- One will say: "Elephant is a huge, fat ass".
- Another: "Elephant is a head with big ears and long trunk".
- The third will say that elephant is a wrinkled wide leg.

Each of them has their own point of view, but none of them see the whole picture.
